Daily Notes & Observations:

💡 Optimization Tips

Start Gradually: Change one meal time per week to avoid overwhelming yourself and build sustainable habits.

Listen to Your Body: These are guidelines—adjust based on how you feel and your natural energy patterns.

Prep for Success: Plan meals and snacks the night before to make timing easier to maintain.

Stay Flexible: Life happens—adapt your timing when needed while maintaining the overall pattern.

Track Patterns: Use the energy tracker for 1-2 weeks to identify your optimal timing windows.

Consistency Over Perfection: Aim for 80% adherence rather than perfect timing every day.

🔧 Customization for Different Lifestyles

🌙 Night Shift Workers
- Eat "breakfast" before shift starts
- Light meals during work hours
- Avoid caffeine 6 hours before sleep
- Maintain consistency on days off

🏃 Early Exercisers
- Small pre-workout snack if needed
- Protein-rich post-workout meal
- Adjust caffeine timing around exercise
- Extra hydration for morning workouts

🏢 Irregular Schedule
- Focus on meal composition over timing
- Pack portable protein + fiber snacks
- Maintain hydration throughout day
- Create consistency where possible

🎓 Students
- Brain-boosting breakfast before exams
- Study snacks: nuts, berries, dark chocolate
- Avoid caffeine crashes during study
- Regular meals support memory & focus
